Remembering Micki

Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends. John 15:13, NIV

On Saturday, October 24, 2015 it was an ordinary, beautiful day for most people living in Gilroy, CA, except for Reverend Frank. Little did he know that at 6pm that Saturday evening, as his wife was speeding down highway 120, her car would be hit head on and explode so powerfully, that four would be dead on impact, with a fifth passenger sent into a--→ coma. The next day, when she was supposed to be home, Micki did not return her phone calls, to an anxious husband waiting at home.

In all of Reverend Frank's life, at the ripe age of 70 years, he probably felt no greater pain, than to lose his beloved wife, missionary partner and best friend for the last five, joyful years. What was supposed to be 40+ more years of happiness together was suddenly gone...both had come from very destructive previous marriages, and finally thought they had found the partner of God's will, and would serve Him together, as missionaries to the world.

What she wants the world to learn...

Micki was the kind of person her husband and stepdaughters remember as a living saint. She was able to forgive anyone, for anything. She was always loving, serving and giving, and risking her life to serve the poorest of the poor around the world.

Micki would have wanted the world to know at a time like this, that guns and hatred are not the answer-- but love is. She would have laid her life down and died for a Muslim, Buddhist, atheist, agnostic, Christian or anyone who needed to know, that God loves them unconditionally.

She married Reverend Frank to help him with COTARI, a missionary organization that tries to reach people of all religions, by showing through the Bible and others' holy books, that we can love one another, become friends, and lay down our lives for one another. Just like Micki did. Just like Reverend Frank does every day to teach the world, that they can be like her too, they can follow her example, to follow Jesus Christ.

Greater love has no one than this: to lay down one's life for one's friends.

John 15:13, NIV

Reverend Frank Continues Her Teaching...

Today, the world has more of a need than ever to hear the message of COTARI. With escalating ISIS beheadings, and global terrorist attacks, Reverend Frank needs your help to raise one million in five years in Micki's memory. Each dollar donated would represent one person removed from terrorist lies, and reached by the truth of God's love.

The funds donated will go to direct, collaborative research with specialized teams from all different faiths to reach as many as possible. Also, funds will go to missionary trips to equip Pastors and volunteers. The goal is to use all funds to teach people that God is love, and translate this into any other holy book, or writing.

Reverend Frank needs your prayers and support at a time when the world is desperately hurting from darkness, ignorance and hatred. Would you please consider regularly praying for COTARI or donating in Micki's memory?
